Your Feet in His Hands

"Jesus poured water into a bowl and began to wash the disciples' feet, drying them with the towel wrapped around Him," (John 13:5)

We say, "No! Don't wash their feet, Jesus. Tell them to wash Yours!"

Do we object because we don't want to see God washing feet? Or do we object because we don't want to do the same?

Logic says, "Put up your fists." Jesus says, "Fill up the basin." Logic says, "She doesn't deserve it." Jesus says, "You're right, but you don't, either."

I don't understand how God can be so kind to us, but He is. He kneels before us, takes our dirty feet in His hands, and washes them. Not from our dirt, but from our sins. And the cleansing isn't just a gesture; it's a necessity. We cannot cleanse our own filth. We cannot remove our own sin. Our feet must be in His hands.

Would you let Him wash your feet today? Max Lucado, www.heartlight.com

"You see, at just the right time, while we were still powerless, Christ died for the ungodly. Very rarely will anyone die for a righteous person, though for a good person someone might possibly dare to die. But God demonstrates His own love for us in this: While we were still sinners, Christ died for us.."

"Since we have now been justified by His blood, how much more shall we be saved from God's wrath through Him! For if, while we were God's enemies, we were reconciled to Him through the death of His son, how much more, having been reconciled, shall we be saved through His life?" (Romans 5: 6-9)

An open letter to those who bring small children to church: There you are, sitting in worship or Bible study. Your child, or toddler, is restless. Perhaps they're even a little boisterous. You try to silence them, and nothing. You try to pacify them with food, or toys, and nothing. Eventually you resort to the last thing you wanted to do: you pick them up and, before a watching audience, you make the march out of the auditorium. All the while, you're a little embarrassed. Maybe you're a little frustrated too. You might even think to yourself, "There's no point in coming to church. I get nothing out of it because I have to constantly care for my kid."

I want you - you mothers and/or fathers - to know just how encouraging you are to so many. The little elderly woman who often feels alone beams with a smile at the sight of you wrestling with your little one. She's been there before. She knows how hard it can be, but she smiles because to hear that brings back precious memories. To see young parents and their small children brighten her day, and she may have just received bad news this week about her health, but seeing the vitality of young ones removes - if but for a moment - her fears.

The older man who always seems to be grouchy notices you, too. He's always talking about how children in this day have no respect or sense of good. But, he sees you - a young family - in church, and you don't miss any gathering. Like clockwork, he can depend on the sight of you and your young family. You give him hope that maybe the church isn't doomed after all, because there are still young parents who love God enough to bring their restless children to worship.

Bring your children to church. If you don't hear crying, the church is dying. As hard as it might be for you as a parent who's half-asleep, keep on doing what you're doing. You are an encouragement, and you're starting off your children's lives as you should.
