TRUE LIGHT

October 13, 2019

DON'T TRY TO FIX WHAT IS NOT BROKEN

Growing up on the farm during the thirties and forties had many advantages. This was during the Great Depression, and money was hard to come by, but many good lessons were available to all who were willing to learn.

My brothers and sisters and I learned responsibility at a very early age. By the time I was nine years old I was working as a regular field hand on the farm. We used mules to pull the farm equipment, and I remember that one of the mules was my responsibility to take care of. This I did with great care and devotion. I came to care for this young mule and made sure he was one of the best mules in the county.

My dad could always find chores for us to do; he didn't believe in kids being lazy but thought that we should be kept busy. I learned obedience and great respect for my parents. I also learned that rebellion did not pay but hurt the one who was rebellious. Parents did not go out of their way to entertain children - children learned to play and entertain themselves. When older people spoke, children listened, and as they listened, they learned. It was in this way that children developed good common sense.

Wisdom is found on the lips of him who has understanding, But a rod is for the back of him who is devoid of understanding. Proverbs 10:13

Many who have grown up in the last 35 years have learned much in school, and this education has helped them get good jobs, but there has been a failure in teaching people how to live. Our country is suffering from a lack of good, common sense and because people are not willing to accept responsibility.

Brethren, the church has been suffering, especially in the last 30 years, because of those who are rebellious and lack common sense. Why can't we as a people accept God's word as it is revealed in the pages of the Bible? Why can't we accept the church as God's spiritual kingdom? Why are many trying to change it? Why try to fix what is not broken?

Let's follow the word of God and try to do a better job of being careful and committed to God's word. Let us use good common sense in dealing with the problems of life. Stay faithful!
